

Simione Macca & Larrow Hires Director of Audit Services

We are pleased to announce that Anne M. Munding has joined the Firm as Director of Audit Services.

Anne has over fifteen years of audit and consulting experience, including six years with Pricewaterhousecoopers. She has supervised audit engagements on public and private entities including Fortune 500 companies and has substantial experience in service, manufacturing and construction industry classifications, especially in the areas of construction company financial reporting, costing and bonding. Ms. Munding has significant experience assisting the State of Connecticut in claims litigation for the Department of Transportation and Public Works, and has been a consultant to the Department of Administrative Services, preparing best practice studies for major cost centers.

Anne graduated cum laude from C.W. Post University, Greenvale, NY in 1985 with a B.S. in accounting.

Simione Macca & Larrow believes that the greatest strength of any professional organization is its people. The Firm feels fortunate to have assembled a well balanced team of professionals with previous experience in a variety of local, regional, and national firm environments.
